

Higher costs boost Heights school budget

To hold hearing
at North school
Tuesday, September 9

The Board of Education of District No. 25 has announced its 1947-48 Budget Hearing to be held at the North school at 8 p.m. September 9. The budget, prepared by the superintendent and the finance committee of the Board and tentatively approved by the Board of Education on August 5, is available for inspection in the superintendent's office in the North school, Arlington Heights.

Next year's budget appropriates $129,229 for education purposes and $52,800 for building and bond purposes. Corresponding levies of $127,500 for the educational fund and $52,800 for the building and bond fund are included in the tentative budget.

THE PROPOSED educational levy of $127,500 represents an increase of $41,100 over the 1946 levy. This increase results primarily from the teachers' salary schedule adopted by the Board of Education last spring. At that time the Board took the position that the community would demand that they pay salaries which would enable this district to continue to secure its share of the available qualified teachers.

Other factors contributing to the necessity of a larger levy, according to Warren Fellingham, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Board of Education, are increased costs of fuel, supplies, equipment, increased operating and maintenance costs because of additional building facilities; and additions to the teaching staff required by a decided increase in enrollment. It should be noted, Mr. Fellingham said, that increased enrollment in a growing community indicates that additional taxable property is being constructed so that there is a broader tax base to support the necessary tax levy.

IT WAS pointed out by one member of the Board of Education that the educational budget of the district must pay the salaries of some 38 full time employees, as well as to finance all operating costs of the school system. He went on to point out that this figure of $129,229, computed on the basis of 185 days of school and an expected enrollment of 700 pupils, represents an approximate expenditure of a little less than one dollar per pupil per day.

The $52,800 building and bond levy, which represents an increase of $21,800 over the 1946 levy, is largely levied to retire building construction bonds. When the additional $100,000 in building bonds was submitted to the voters last August, it was felt by the Board of Education that these bonds should be paid off as rapidly as possible by the district. Such a policy restores bonding power to the district and saves the taxpayers a large amount in interest. Thus, $120,000 of the $285,000 bond issue, occasioned by the construction of the South school, will be paid off during the next five years.

ARLINGTON Heights citizens, whether they are patrons of the schools, property owners, merchants, or developers, are proud of the reputation the Arlington Heights schools have achieved and have urged the Board of Education not to reduce the high standards of the schools. The Board of Education feels that the community expects them to levy the funds necessary to achieve this end, in line with good business procedure and efficient administration of their funds.

President N. M. Latoff stated at the district's budget and appropriation ordinance will be available for inspection in the office of the superintendent until September 9 and that the Board of Education will be glad to discuss the financial problems of the schools with any interested citizen at the public budget hearing on September 9.

Lightning wrecks electric control, causes water shortage

A sudden flash of lightning early Tuesday afternoon struck the electric box at the Arlington Heights east well placing it out of commission, causing a water shortage. The village had difficulty in securing a new control box.

Only as a last resort will the connection be opened between the rare track and the village mains. If that becomes necessary, consumers will get discolored water when they open their faucets. Until repairs are made water consumers have the choice either of limiting sprinkling or of using palatable water for drinking purposes.

Two men at the Jahn's Cities service station, working on a car, received severe electric shocks.

Final chance next week to pay taxes

This is the last call for the second installment of the 1946 real estate taxes. There are only a few days left in which the taxpayer can make his second installment payment without penalty. Penalty date is September 1, at the county building.

Only 12 traffic tickets dismissed in year of business

There are probably few municipalities where as close a check is kept on traffic violation tickets as in Arlington Heights. The auditor's report for the last fiscal year carries the information that a total of 268 tickets were issued during the year and fines paid on 256 of those tickets. Twelve cases were dismissed.

Auditor Laurin told the board that an absolute check is kept on arrest books and the above figures are authentic. The village did not get rich on the amount of fines assessed against erring motorists, but the fines averaged $7.25 each, plus court costs. Magistrate Neumann handled all of the cases.

Grain growers turn to malt barley as a money crop

The elevator of Arlington Heights Roller Mills, Northwest Highway, Arlington Heights, has been working overtime accommodating the scores of grain raisers who are bringing malt barley there for shipment to the breweries. The growers have found that barley raising brings excellent returns.

A. W. Popp, of the roller mills had difficulty two years ago to get farmers to try barley. Today they are convinced and the acreage planted to that crop has multiplied several times.

Arlington trio escape blaze in Wisconsin lodge

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sesterhenn and son Terry of Arlington Heights spent an enjoyable two weeks at Cabot Lodge, Sturgeon Bay, Wisconsin, but they didn't anticipate doing some fast packing for home. They were awakened about 3 a.m. last Friday by cries of "fire."

The beautiful lodge, together with all furnishings and many valuable antiques was completely destroyed. Fortunately, the fire did not spread to the forty cottages, which housed all the guests on the peninsula, and nobody was injured.

There was quite a panic for awhile, as everyone dashed to safety, for it was feared the fire would spread through all the surrounding forests.

Students attending Arlington Heights high school from rural districts, Wheeling, Mt. Prospect and Prospect Heights, will have a bus schedule to memorize if they want to keep their dates in the classroom and get out of the school building in time to "make the last bus."

Geisen will furnish from seven to eight buses. Pupils who are in a hurry to get home will leave the school at approximately 3:10. A late bus will leave 50 minutes later. As a public service the bus schedule is printed herewith.

Propose book shelf memorial to memory of Lillian Russell

Rev. Vondracek, pastor of Arlington Heights Methodist Church, has suggested a memorial to the memory of Miss Lillian Russell, an Arlington Heights teacher who devoted her life to the instruction of children. He has suggested that the memorial take the form of a juvenile book shelf in the Arlington public library.

Rev. Vondracek accompanies his suggestion with a check for $5.00. Paddock Publications has added a second $5.00. Persons desiring to join in the memorial can either mail their checks to the publication office or to the treasurer's office at the village hall.

Water dep't nets profit on homes; 45 cents annually

Arlington Heights residents who may be prone to argue the amount of their water bills would pay up "with pleasure" if they had the opportunity to inspect the auditor's report covering the operation of the water department the last fiscal year.

It cost the village an average of 20.5c for every thousand gallons of water sold last year. The village received an average of 21.9c which means a profit of about 1 1/2c a thousand gallons.

AN AVERAGE home uses between 30,000 and 40,000 gallons of water a year, which means a profit to the village of 45 to 60 cents per average consumer. The water department of the village is big business, over $35,000 a year. The total profit, says Mr. Laurin, was $2,000.

Dr. Robert Muench associated with Dr. H. J. Carr

Dr. H. J. Carr announced this week that Dr. Robert Muench of Des Plaines is now associated with him. Dr. Muench served his internship at Grant hospital after completing his medical studies at University of Illinois.

Dr. Muench will spend his entire time with Dr. Carr. The demands upon local physicians have been heavy and with a second man on the job, Dr. Carr expects to be able to give his patients the time and attention they need and still conserve his own strength.

Twilight Golf League to sponsor dance

The Mt. Prospect Country club will be the scene this Saturday evening of the first annual dance of the Arlington Heights Twilight Golf League. Dancing will begin at nine and continue until midnight. Earl Friedrichs band will pour forth the music for the evening's entertainment. Admission is $2.50 per couple.

Parents must not fail to accept responsibility for children

Trouble of serious nature has developed from time to time as a result of hazing of freshmen in various high schools. Arlington Heights has been no exception and has had its share of unfavorable circumstances as a result of hazing activities. It is difficult to stop hazing activities if parents and townspeople do not assume their share of the responsibility of controlling and guiding this activity.

The state law is definite in its aim. It is absolutely illegal to tolerate any form of hazing. The school can control the program during the school day, but it is the responsibility of parents to control the activities of their youngsters while at home, on the streets, and in public places. The school is attempting to provide types of wholesome recreation, social activities, and orderly traditional events built around the various extra-curricular activities of the school.

Students as a whole want this type of activity but when not controlled by their parents will engage in activities that are forerunners of violence, misconduct, and moronic citizenship. Property will be destroyed, clothes will be ruined, humiliations will be evidenced, and even students will quit school as a result of improper encouragement and tolerance of freshmen hazing.

A student committee having met several times during the summer has proposed a series of activities and events to compensate for those undesirable activities of the past. This committee has done a fine piece of work. It has worked in cooperation with the school officials, and everything points toward a successful, enjoyable series of activities for the school year.

PARENTS MUST AND SHOULD ACCEPT THE RESPONSIBILITY OF CONTROLLING THE ACTIVITIES OF YOUNG PEOPLE DURING LEISURE TIME HOURS. GOOD GUIDANCE IS GOOD CITIZENSHIP.

ARLINGTON housewives do not appreciate bus shopping service. When Mr. Harvel asked authority from Illinois Commerce Commission to establish bus shopping service in Arlington Heights he thought he was providing something that the housewives wanted. With a few exceptions he has found the service unprofitable. Many trips are made without a passenger.

St. Peter school to open doors September 2. St. Peter Lutheran school of Arlington Heights will begin its new school year on Tuesday, September 2, with a divine service in the church at 9 o'clock. All parents and friends are invited to attend this children's service. The school will be in session the full day.

The entire school has been cleaned thoroughly and presents an inviting appearance. New equipment such as several reference sets, new maps, charts, and inter-communication system have been added, as well as several modern textbooks.

The entire school has been cleaned thoroughly and presents an inviting appearance. New equipment such as several reference sets, new maps, charts, and inter-communication system have been added, as well as several modern textbooks.

FIVE new teachers will begin the new year at St. Peter's. Ed. W. Klamms, of Waynesboro, Va., will take charge of the third grade and supervise the music of school and church. Mr. Klamms is a graduate of Concordia College at River Forest. A. Schwich of Omaha, Neb., will take the fourth grade and collaborate with Mr. Obermann in athletics and young people's work. The tuition for non-Lutheran children is voluntary. Further information can be supplied by the pastor of the church, or any of the teachers.

Library closes early

The Arlington Heights public library will close the balance of this week at 6 p. m. on account of the hot weather. Regular hours will be resumed next week.

State hiway dept. studies traffic at intersections

Illinois State Highway Dept. is aware of intersection conditions in this area and are studying plans to alleviate them as much as possible. They found Sunday that north and south traffic on Elmhurst road had to wait as long as ten minutes before it could cross Rand road. Prospect Heights motorists who ventured out into the north bound lane in hopes that the southbound traffic would let them through, found that the average motorist cares nothing for the other fellow. There were several narrow escapes while that intersection was being checked. A recommendation will go to Springfield for four stop signs at that intersection.

CONDITIONS at Palatine rd. and Northwest Highway were very bad, therefore violating traffic signs can be authorized. The investigators found that the stop and go signs on Northwest Highway north of Barrington formed a bumper-to-bumper line to Cuba, four miles west. They can not see why the traveling motorists on Route 14 should be held up seven days a week when a police traffic officer at that intersection Sunday afternoon and evening would serve the purpose.

WILKE ROAD and Route 14 will have some special attention, although the highway department can do little without cooperation of the Northwestern railroad. The state will install a large intersection sign on Rte. 14; trim the lower branches off the trees; place stop sign north of track and a warning sign south of track. It will also recommend to the Northwestern Railroad to move fence to a diagonal position thereby giving full view to the northwest. If the shanty is on the highway, it will be ordered moved.

The officer who made the investigation and a reporter for Paddock Publications checked cars at this intersection and practically none of them slowed down. "About the only thing that will stop a motorist," said the investigator, "is a stop sign or a car in the way. Signs hardly mean a thing."

The Northwestern railroad moved a few ties Tuesday that were partially obstructing the view.

Just a suggestion to local Lions

Paddock Publications does not know if J. D. Bryson, agricultural instructor at the Arlington Heights high school, is going to have any spare time this year from his regular school duties, but a letter from Stockton, Ill., his former home, tells some stories about Joe that will be interesting to the Arlington Hts. Lions Club members.

Mr. Bryson has not given his consent for their publication (he is out of town) so we will just take a chance.

"Mr. Bryson is a member of the Lions Club in Stockton. Last winter he was instrumental in putting on a minstrel show to raise money toward purchasing a park. It was a big success and one of the lasting results was the formation of a permanent Lions Club chorus with twenty-five members. He was director. We had a lot of fun singing a variety of music, but we're strongest on barber shop harmony."

Is Arlington high outgrowing NE conference?

Is Arlington Heights high school outgrowing the Northeast conference? Some members of the high school league feel the local school, among others, is becoming too large, and are seeking to break away to form a new league.

Read details of the projected plan this week in Mac Says on the sport page. Mac has just returned to the active staff of Paddock Publications, preparatory to the start of school again just ten days hence.

Sider Foods offer permanent positions

Sider Foods, Arlington Hts., has a man power problem. To handle their expanding business, a lot of new machinery has been ordered and is now arriving. The problem facing that company is neither orders for their products nor an adequate source of supply of the fruits and vegetables that they process. They need more employees. They are telling the story in a large advertisement in section 2 of this week's paper.

During the summer many high school young people have been employed at the plant. They must now return to school. "The positions now being filled are permanent," says Mr. Sider.

Arlington Bowling Lanes open this week

Arlington Heights bowling lanes open for fall competition this week end with prizes to be awarded top men's and women's series for the two day rolling. Lindgren and Wolf, managers of the alleys, have had the alleys sanded and refinished and are set for another banner year.

The managers have also announced there are openings in some leagues for local bowlers. Those desiring to compete in league competitions are urged to contact anyone at the alley desk.

Proposed taverns ask zoning changes on Higgins road

Zoning Board of Appeals of Cook County will hold hearings next Wednesday on petitions for zoning changes from "farming" to "business, tavern and amusement" both of them on Higgins road.

The first hearing will be held at 5:00 o'clock at Schiller Park village hall on three lots in Stephany's subdivision, on Higgins road, 1,000 feet west of Des Plaines River road.

Arlington tax levy jumps to record 100 Cs

The tax levy of Arlington Heights has jumped to six figures, $100,000, which is $21,000 greater than a year ago. The real figure is $5.00 less than that amount. The total budget for the year is $169,500, but receipts from other purposes knocks off the $69,500.

The general higher costs for a third of the increase. Among the increased items are $1,500 additional for the library and an increase of $7,500 for policemen's salaries. This is partly due to demand of the public for improved police protection which has been accomplished by placing special police on limited regular duty. Patrol of two police cars during the night hours has also added to the cost of the department.

NEW EQUIPMENT for the street department has added $5,000 to the previous levy. The public is continually asking for "extra service" and while the Village of Arlington Heights is not operating any "Marshall plan" it can not say no to all of the requests. One such instance was the decision Monday night to oil sections of gravel roads that are adjacent to homes. Repairs to the sewer system also take out a big bite of the tax levy increase.

The tax levy was passed by the board. Elmer Laurin presented that same evening his audit of corporate funds. The report was approved and accepted. The audit takes the place of the annual report of the village treasurer. It will be published in part next week.

Attorney Collins, in his quest for approval of a pre-fab house to be erected by a client on South Chestnut, received some encouragement when he appeared before the Everybody happy?

There are two ways of skinning a cat, says Arlington Hts. village board. The situation is this:

Subdivider improves Kennicott ave., except before lots over which he has no control.

Motorists claim the "vacant" spots are a safety hazard and ask village to force the developers to do a complete job.

Village orders the street barricaded. Motorists who use it, do so at own peril.

Hot lunches at Arlington high

The Arlington Heights township high school will enter into an agreement with the Federal Department of Agriculture to supply a balanced hot lunch for high school students this year.

This program has been in effect for a number of years in various communities and has proved to be popular with students. A hot lunch with the following minimum requirements is required by the federal government: meat or its equivalent, vegetables, fruit, bread and butter, and milk.

BY COOPERATING in this program the cafeteria should be able to supply a well balanced, economical diet to students who are to participate.

The cafeteria will continue with the a la carte service as it has always done, and with both services the cafeteria should be able to serve the needs of the student body at an economical cost.

U. S. ownership protects Arlington Airport from zoning regulations

The Cook county zoning bureau does not have the jurisdiction to enforce its zoning ordinances against the airport located at Central and Wilke rds., near Arlington Heights. Jacob Shamburg, assistant state's attorney ruled last week.

The airport has an area of only 97 acres, thereby violating the county zoning ordinance which requires that all airports be at least 160 acres, according to Shamburg.

At the request of George A. Quinlan, enforcing officer of the county zoning bureau, Shamburg prepared a legal opinion to determine the county's jurisdiction over the airport. Shamburg found that since the airport was the property of the Federal government, although it is now operated by the Illinois Aircraft Service and Sales company, 1 N. LaSalle st., Chicago, the county does not have jurisdiction over it.

The airport was used during the war as an auxiliary training field by the navy.

Members of the Read family were injured in accident Saturday morning at Arlington Heights road and route 58, south of Arlington Heights.

David Read, Jr., Downers Grove, who was driving north on Arlington Heights road, told the county police that he stopped for the stop sign and was in the outer lane when suddenly he was struck by an east bound car driven by J. A. Black, 1924 Morse ave., Chicago.

All were taken to Palatine Community hospital. The Read family of three were able to return to their homes the same day. Mr. and Mrs. Black, occupants of the other car, were held at the hospital until Monday.

MEMBERS of the Read family were Mr. Read and his two sons, James, 5, and John, 7. Their injuries were confined to cuts and bruises. The Blacks had severe shock, deep cuts and severe bruises.

When Read's car was being hauled from the scene, it started to burn and Arlington Heights fire department was called. Water and fire extinguishers were used. Both cars are wrecks.

A WET pavement is blamed for an accident Tuesday afternoon near the intersection of Rand and Elmhurst road. Five were taken to the Northwestern hospital, Des Plaines.

A car being driven by Joseph Weinert, Mt. Prospect, was attempting a U-turn. The wet pavement prevented the other car from avoiding the accident. Three occupants in the Weinert car who were taken to the hospital were H. Mollenkamp, Iva Jeffery and Lillian Funk, all of Arlington Heights.

Occupants of the other car were Ralph Ainers, 211 N. Kilpatrick, and Dorothy Molaski, 3930 Cornelia, Chicago.

Show at Recreation Park Friday, Saturday

The 4-H Fair at Arlington Heights recreation park Friday and Saturday this week will not be all cows, pigs, poultry and home cooking. The commercial tent will house 19 exhibitors who will have on display interesting home appliances as well as the "best and best" in farm equipment.

"This may be a farm show, but we are all interested in the success of the farmer," Herman Hinz, general chairman, said Wednesday morning when he was checking the commercial exhibits. "The more efficient is the kitchen of the farmer's wife, the more efficient can be the kitchen of the woman who resides in town. Thus, this show will interest everybody."

ENTERTAINMENT from WLS artists is always popular. There will be two days of it at the fair. Friday it will be in the form of an evening show starting at 8:00 o'clock. Saturday, the WLS show starts in the early afternoon.

The program starts at 9:00 a.m. each day. The general public will enjoy watching the judging of the agricultural and home economic exhibits thruout Friday morning. That judging will extend into the afternoon to be followed by the 4-H baseball tournament, the finals of which will start at 9:00 o'clock Saturday morning.

SATURDAY afternoon will be a busy four hours with a demonstration (Continued on Page Two)

Racing motorist hits electric pole, 3 are electrocuted

Two men and a woman were electrocuted Sunday night when their car hit a pole of a high power line on Rand Road three quarters of a mile north of Golf road. A second woman and a child escaped. Those who lost their lives are:

Soi Silvey, 48, of 5098 W. Monroe st., a furrier.

Mrs. Thelma Silvey, 43, his wife.

Joseph Ornstein, 46, 1142 S. Spaulding, a milliner.

Other occupants of the car who got out of the vehicle in safety were Mrs. Rose Ornstein and daughter Francine, 9. They were returning from a picnic at Lake Zurich. Mrs. Ornstein said that their car was racing with another automobile.

WHEN the pole was hit an electric wire fell on their car. As Silvey got out to open the doors, he came into contact with the live wire and was killed. His wife stepped out, tripping over the body of her husband and was electrocuted. The same fate fell to Ornstein when he touched the body of Mrs. Silvey.

Passing motorists kept a good distance from the live wire until employees of Public Service company shut off the current and the bodies could be moved. They were taken to Lauterburg & Oehler funeral home.

FIVE WERE injured in an accident Saturday morning at Arlington Heights road and route 58, south of Arlington Heights. RAMBLE INN 'N OUTINGS

The Moonlight Cruise was a brilliant success. Its brilliance was second only to the moon and stars. Two buses left the field house at 8:00 p.m. last Tuesday and with a real crowd of Y. C. members traveled down to the Michigan avenue bridge pier. They then got aboard the luxury liner City of Grand Rapids.

The places provided for dancing were not very big but then nobody cared say they were lonely. The cool breeze of the lake made a well-timed and refreshing change after the siege of hot weather that was climaxed on Tuesday.

Great credit for the success of the cruise should go to Barbara Tichy, Mary Lou Sanders, Wally Luettichwager, and Ken Bork who did the planning and work on the project. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell should be congratulated for the successfulness of the cruise. This was the first Y. C. project with the Campbells as the directors. Let's make sure they have continued support by us.

Thanks go to Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy who went along as chaperons. They were fun to have along.

Last Friday night the officers of Rumble Inn held a meeting in order to draft a constitution for Rumble Inn. The constitution sets up a system for electing new officers, provides for membership, defines Rumble Inn's purpose, and clearly outlines the duties of the officers.

The officers feel that an organization as large and as influential as Rumble Inn ought to have its objectives defined. Therefore, under the direction of the Campbells, the officers drafted a constitution which will soon be sent to the Adult Committee for suggestions and approval.

As soon as possible I will have a copy of the constitution in this column.

Don't forget that Rumble Inn is moving down stairs about the last week in August. There will be a swell redecorating party. We want all who can paint, draw, or just carry a broom to come. The date will be announced in this column soon. It will mean fun for all and all for fun.

Well school is soon to start. It will be better than before. With the athletic lights and newest part.

We'll like it even more. But nothing remains the same. Nothing remains as its been. As school has changed this year. So will Rumble Inn.

We want to make it better. More entertaining for all. That is our goal.

As Rumble Inn opens this fall.

SIMPLEX ABACUS

The abacus, an ancient device for counting still used by the Orientals, recently amazed the western world by defeating the electric computer in several contests. The winning machine proved that complicated mechanisms are not always the best. According to the World Book Encyclopedia, the abacus consists of only 63 beads mounted on nine strings held by a frame.

Children's Teeth
Should Be Checked
by C. W. LUSSMAN of Sieburg Drug Co.

There is not too early an age to take your children to the dentist for a check-up. By this time small cavities may be starting to form and should at once be cared for in order that the baby teeth may be kept in as good condition as possible until the second teeth are ready to come through.

After that, check-ups should follow at regular intervals throughout their growing years and thus much pain and expense may be saved in later years.

Such attention is an assurance of good strong teeth; so necessary to health and good appearance.

Your dentist or a trusted druggist will aid you in the selection of one of the better dentifrices.

Realtor builds model of home he'll build (for a price)

What better business than housing for a man by the name of Houser? The truth of the matter is, Orrie Houser, of Park Ridge, who is affiliated with Fred L. Gillick Co. real estate, just plain likes houses.

He is so fond of them, in fact, that he spent the past six months of his leisure hours building one all by himself.

The amazing piece of construction occupies a 100-foot lot—in the Main st. window of the real estate firm.

Built on a scale of one-half inch to one foot, the minutely detailed replica reposes in grandiose splendor under glass upon a green-dyed turkish towel lawn. Complete even to tiny artificial flowers growing in colorful profusion in well-kept beds, the little doll house could well be mistaken for a real, life-size dwelling in pictures.

More than 4,000 separate pieces of wood were patiently glued together by Mr. Houser, often with the aid of tweezers, to make the miniature as lifelike as possible. Each board of siding was delicately carved and carefully put into place as in a real house.

The attractive white bungalow, of the popular rambling ranch-type, was made from plans printed in a real estate and architectural trade magazine. We have sent for a complete set of plans so that anyone wanting to duplicate my miniature on a practical scale can do so," said Mr. Houser, getting in a plug for his business.

A life time of service in our schools

Youth suffered a great loss on August 6th in the death of a devoted friend, Miss Lillian Russell, whose entire life had been dedicated to their welfare. Her loss however, will be felt by all, for she was greatly beloved by all who had known and loved her.

Miss Russell taught in the upper grades of the public schools of Arlington Heights from 1915 to 1924. The many young people who came under her influence here, have never forgotten her keen sense of humor, her dramatic teaching of history, her great ability to find the best in everyone, and in her own wise way to nourish the adolescent mind to its best endeavors and highest aspirations. To her, there were no bad boys, and it is true under her guidance, there were none for she drew out the best in all, the innate fineness.

Miss Russell began teaching in Chicago in 1924. After working in several schools, she became a member of the teaching staff on the O'Hanlon school in Norwood Park and gave 14 years of immeasurable service to that school and community, "an influence for good that has been great and lasting."

Upon her retirement in 1940, a testimonial banquet was held on November 11 at the Morrison hotel in Chicago, and great tribute was paid to a well loved teacher by former pupils who came or sent messages, some from far away, their parents, her associate teachers, principals, district superintendents, and old friends from Chicago, Lake Geneva, Highland Park and Arlington Heights, many having gone to school to Miss Russell many years before. She was deeply loved and admired by her fellow teachers as well as by hundreds of students and appreciative parents, and eloquent words of praise were tendered her upon that occasion.

Ill health beset her very early in her retirement, hospitalizing her several times, and closely confining her to her home, yet she still kept in contact with many of her former pupils and friends, who called from far and near to once again feel the influence of her personality and character. During the war years, her greatest happiness was hearing from and writing to her boys, who were in far corners of the globe and seeing them on their return.

The small children of this community who had the good fortune to be close enough to know her, loved her deeply and made her home a part of their daily experience. The influence upon their lives cannot be measured, for she gave so much to all who knew her.

Miss Russell had a deep appreciation of good books. Poetry meant to her what music means to many people. By her dramatic and rhythmic reading aloud of prose and poetry, she gave to children and young people a contact with, and a real love for the best that is between book covers. Lillian Russell's keen sense of humor, her clever wit and poignant phrases gave delight to all. Race, color, creed or social status had no bearing upon her friendships in life. Her heart was as large as the globe, and had her frail body had the strength of its gallant spirit, her influence would have been as great.

She served her fellowmen in this and other communities in so many capacities that it would be

Religious Ruler

A 13-year-old Chinese boy is the civil and religious ruler of Tibet. He is the 14th Dalai Lama and was enthroned on February 22, 1940.

Rizzi took her guests and accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Vance L. Folkman and daughter, Pat, and Miss Sally Willem, to Aurora for a picnic.

Came from a family of teachers

Lillian E. Russell was born in Kewanee, Illinois, September 19, 1875.

Her father W. H. Russell established a private school in Highland Park, Ill. in 1888, so she grew up in a household of small boys and was a vital part of the school.

Her first public school teaching was done in Highland Park, in the little red school house that stood where the Lincoln school is now.

Later she assumed much of the teaching in her father's school and when it was absorbed by the Northwestern Military Academy and called Russell Hall for the younger boys she continued to teach there.

In 1915 she began her nine years of teaching in Arlington Heights.

During those years she was a vital force in the community working against great odds to acquire a community nurse. She worked day and night in a hospital during the "flu" epidemic in 1918, and was one of a group who sponsored and taught an evening school for people who had come from foreign lands and needed a knowledge of the English language.

Miss Russell served many years on the board of the Arlington Heights Public Library.

In 1924 she began teaching in Chicago.

She retired in 1940, having taught the last 14 years at the O'Hanlon school in Norwood Park. Lillian Russell is survived by her sister Irene Russell and some cousins in Maine and New York.

Funeral services were held August 8 at Karstens-Fairbanks funeral home.

Women's Guild to resume meetings

After a brief summer recess the St. James Catholic Women's Guild of Arlington Heights will resume its regular monthly meetings Tuesday evening, August 26. Devotions to Our Lady of Perpetual Help services will be conducted at 7:45 p. m. Immediately following the members will adjourn to the school hall for a business meeting.

An evening of cards, with unique prize giving, will feature entertainment for the evening. The newly elected officers will be hosts.

Members of the Altar and Rosary Sodality will be special guests. All members are cordially invited to attend.

Flashes 4-H

The Flashes 4-H of Arlington Heights held its last meeting Friday at the home of their leader, Mrs. Sakelson. Seven members were present. Joan Sander, Gloria Haemker, Verdel Hildebrandt, and Joyce Janusch gave talks. Gloria Haemker gave a demonstration. During the meeting Bonnie Peterson and Joan Lingren told the girls what they had done in Springfield. Dresses that are to be modeled or exhibited at North Cook County 4-H Fair and Fall Festival are to be taken to Mrs. Stadelman. All books must be taken to one of the leaders by August 23.

Joyce Jannusch.

FRIDAY AUGUST 22, 1947

4th annual antique and hobby show Sept. 17-19

Mrs. Harold E. Olson, general chairman, announces the dates for the Fourth Annual Antique and Hobby Show as September 17, 18 and 19. Members of the Woman's Society of the Methodist church have been working all summer, making plans for this show, which ushers in the fall season of activities, with an event which annually draws visitors to the community from considerable distances.

THE DEALERS have promised to bring extensive collections of antiques for sale to hobbyists and early Christmas shoppers, and the hobby section will have a broad and fascinating display of private collections and leisure time activities. Dinners will be served each day of the show.

A number of innovations are planned for this year. The fifty cent charge will purchase a ticket good for all three days, so visitors may return as many times as they desire. Afternoon tea will be served each day at St. John's church, with the attractive and appropriate background of the table settings display.

The committees selected to assist Mrs. Olson are headed by the following women:

Mrs. Marvin Prellberg, co-chairman.
Mrs. E. H. Heller, dealers.

Mrs. John Shanklin, hobbies.
Mrs. L. F. Draper, table settings.
Mrs. Frederick Schmoeyer, quilts.
Mrs. Charles Deigl and Mrs. L. McAuliffe, dining room.
Mrs. O. R. Cline, properties.
Mrs. H. J. Gregg, publicity and advertising.
Mrs. Charles Stadelman is president of the Woman's Society.

Forest Preserve Dist. to sell isolated parcels

A suggestion that the county dispose of a dozen small isolated parcels of forest preserve land that has become surrounded by roads or other improvements was favorably received by the county board, sitting as the board of forest preserve commissioners, Monday.

Commissioner William Basse, veteran member from Mt. Prospect, made the suggestion as the board was approving the removal of 265 acres and the addition to 231 to the 39,000 acre acquisition program recommended by the advisory committee on land purchases.

He cited one parcel on a paved street in Niles, and another square block north of Dempster street adjoining Ewing avenue in Evanston, which he called "a nuisance to the city" because new residents rejected to the cover provided for loiterers while the old ones staunchly defended the "fine old trees."

Superintendent Charles G. Sauers said there was a block-wide strip all the way from Belmont to Addison, cut off by running the road along Cumberland avenue instead of Thatcher avenue, and two parcels on the northwest corner of Irving Park and River road, the so-called River road cut-off.

"The board might incorporate them all in a bill to submit to the legislature when we study the 44,000 acre program," recommended Sauers. "The law should remain unchanged about not having power to sell other parcels, because that is a boon under the pressure we get from many groups."

St. Peter's Couple Club offers travel-lecture

Ray Eggersted of Elgin will present to St. Peter's Couple Club of Arlington Heights, a travel-lecture motion picture on the Colorado River, in full color and with a musical background. The entire congregation is invited to enjoy this program, as Mr. Eggersted is widely known in his field, and it is a privilege to secure a program of this type.

The regular club date has been moved forward to Wednesday, August 27, at 8 o'clock, at the Lutheran school. There will be no admission charged.

Truck burns in village dump at Barrington

Sunday afternoon a truck, owned by Dewey Breish, Barrington trucker, burned in the Barrington village dump. The incident occurred when Breish was dumping empty paint cans, picked up at the Harvey Manufacturing company.

The fire department was called, and the blaze was extinguished in about 25 minutes. The fire destroyed the cushions, upholstery and windows in the cab, and badly burned the body.

Victor Rieke, fire chief, attributed the cause of the mishap to a small quantity of naphtha, remaining in the bottom of one of the cans. The naphtha, it is believed, ignited while the cans were being removed.

School lunch funds to be less this year

In a letter addressed to all Illinois county school superintendents issued today, Vernon L. Nickell, superintendent of public instruction, pointed out that the new $5 million dollar school lunch program appropriation bill recently approved by Congress, provides only for food costs and eliminates all non-food assistance.

Total allocation for food assistance in Illinois is $1,273,158.60 less this year than last, and it will therefore be necessary to cut federal subsidy rates by meal type to make the money last throughout the school year.

Last year schools in many states were inconvenienced when federal subsidies were exhausted, and it was uncertain whether additional funds would be made available.

The letter concludes that since Congress has agreed that the school lunch program is worthwhile and important, it is essentially a local program, and it is like the obligations entailed for the program will very shortly pass to a state and local support level.

Since Illinois' share of the allotment is now known, new application blanks are going forward for the use of schools wishing to participate in this year's program.

California Expands

Between 1940 and 1946, in terms of manufacturing wage earners, some California industries have shown the following percentage growth: glass and glassware, 120 per cent; rubber products, 127 per cent; electrical machinery and equipment, 152 per cent; machinery (except electrical), 118 per cent; beet sugar processing, 95 per cent.

Mary Lou Cambron

Services were held Monday morning with a Mass of the Angels at St. Mary's in Des Plaines for Mary Lou Cambron, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cambron of Forest River. Interment was in All Saints cemetery.

Mary Lou, who was 2 1/2 years old, died suddenly after being ill only a short time. She had been confined to the St. Francis hospital in Evanston and was thought to be getting better, when she took a turn for the worse and passed away.

She leaves to mourn, besides her parents, her two brothers, Ronald and Joe, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mammmina and Mr. and Mrs. Cambron of Benton; two uncles, Philip and Frank Mammmina; besides numerous other aunts, uncles and cousins.

W. James Wetterman

Funeral services will be held today, Thursday, at 2 p. m., from the Immanuel Lutheran church in Des Plaines for W. James Wetterman, Oakton st., Des Plaines. The body is lying in state at the Des Plaines Lutheran church and Oehler chapel until the time of the services. Rev. J. E. A. Mueller will be in charge and burial will be in Ridgewood cemetery.

James was born December 25, 1930, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wetterman. His death was due to drowning while swimming at Deep Lake last Sunday afternoon. James, though an excellent swimmer, dove into the water and did not come back up to the surface. His body was removed from the lake after a 24 hour search. It had become entangled with weeds when diving and was held fast beneath the water. James would have been a senior at Maine Township high school this fall.

Those left to mourn his departure are his parents, a sister, Cynthia, a brother, Theodore, Jr., his grandfather, Mrs. Sophie Wetterman, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Scheer, all of Des Plaines.

Fire Razes Barn In Schaumburg Road Blaze

A fire at 6:30 Wednesday morning consumed a large barn with all its contents on the Peter Postma farm on Schaumburg road near Route 59. The estimated loss was $20,000.

Forty tons of feed, eight tons of hay, a truck and other farm machinery, along with a milk house and a long shed, were all destroyed. Fortunately, there was no stock in the barn.

The fire had gained considerable headway before it was discovered by members of the Postma family who reside across the road from the farm buildings. Bartlett firemen could do nothing to save the barn, but they stood by to protect the residence.

Mrs. Minnie Linneman

Funeral services for Mrs. Minnie Linneman, nee Thake, of Elk Grove township, were held from the Karstens-Fairbanks Funeral home to the Elk Grove Ev. Lutheran church, Wednesday, at 2 p. m. Rev. J. E. A. Mueller officiated and burial was in the Elk Grove Ev. Lutheran cemetery.

Mrs. Linneman was born August 16, 1870 in Elk Grove township. She was confirmed in 1883 at St. John's Ev. Lutheran church and was married in that church to Henry Linneman on March 6, 1892. This couple made their home in Elk Grove after their marriage. Mr. Linneman preceded his wife in death, May 29, 1939.

After a comparatively short illness Mrs. Linneman passed away at the Elmhurst hospital Sunday evening at the age of 77 years and one day.

She leaves to mourn her departure five children, Mrs. Amanda Huecker, William, Alma Busse, Alvina Kruse, and Edwin; twelve grandchildren; five great grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Doris Redeker; and four brothers, Fred, Herman, Martin, and Louis Thake.

Annual scouters' picnic a success

by ARNOLD HATCH

The annual picnic by the Algonquin and Blackhawk Scouters and their families at Camp Baden Powell Sunday, August 17, provided an interesting program of entertaining games, fun and merriment for both young and old.

Marty Freeman, master of ceremonies, announced that the first event was one of those games where everyone would get all gummed up if they weren't careful, distributed bubble gum to the contestants and at a given signal bubbles appeared in all directions. Marty heaved a mighty gust of air into his mouthful of gum which gave him first, Bill Davis "placed", and Eddie Johnson almost "showed", but at the crucial moment he puffed a bit too hard and dropped his gum which disqualified him.

In the "ball and chain" event the husband's wrists were tied together as well as his wife's, like two links of a chain. The problem then was to get free without cutting the strings, and the couple getting free first were the winners. The Hatches solved this so quickly that Marty insisted on a double demonstration before he would declare them winners.

In the treasure hunt the committee had hidden a silver dollar in an old apple tree and after an exciting search of several minutes Eugene Freeman proudly displayed the silver dollar, saying, "that was just like finding money."

The balloon breaking contest which was restricted to married couples, provided a lot of fun. Marty pronounced Mrs. Kranz the winner and gave her the title of champion balloon buster. Marty said he was sorry that the watermelon eating contest would have to be postponed because the carload of melons hadn't arrived.

A picnic wouldn't be complete without a youngster's foot race. The first heat was a tie and in the second Terry Smith won by a "nose."

The highlight of the picnic was the pop drinking contest. All the "pops" had to lay flat on their backs while their wives fed them a bottle of pop thru a nipple. Hatch's nipple came off (accidentally?) so he was disqualified, while the nipple on Bill Davis' bottle sprang a leak emptying most of it on his shirt. Mrs. Davis said, "too bad, Bill, that's the only shirt you have and you'll have to wear it all week."

Several other games added to the gaiety and at six o'clock Stan Huntington provided boiling hot coffee which he said was pretty strong, in fact he hoped it wouldn't eat the bottom out of the cast iron kettle that it was cooked in. Pop, icecream and an iced grape drink provided by the Council added much to the pleasure of the picnickers.

In short, a beautiful bright day, many exciting games, topped off with a hearty outdoor luncheon, went down in scout history as annual scout event of friendship and good fellowship that will not be forgotten soon. The committee engineering this successful picnic are Marty Freeman, Byron Foote, Bill Davis and Doug Armstrong.

Among the scouters and families present were: T. R. Smith, Barney Cook, Eddie Johnson, M. Kranz, Dave Lewis, Ralph Schultz, Mary Freeman, Byron Foote, Stan Huntington, Chuck Robison, Geo. Meyer, Geo. Laubheimer, Bob Charles, Arnold Hatch, Bill Davis and Doug Armstrong.

Useful in Peace

Gas warfare, which fortunately didn't materialize in the recent conflict, had to be prepared for and against. A protective substance developed by the British for combating Lewisite gas—which contains arsenic—is reported to have peacetime usefulness for the treatment of poisoning from arsenic. The antidote, a sulfur compound, converts the arsenic into substances that are easily eliminated. Mercury poisoning also may respond to the remedy.

FRAYED EXTENSION CORDS

are a Household Hazard

Too many homemakers pay too little attention to wiring that members of their household use and handle every day—frayed cords go unchanged, serious damage often results.

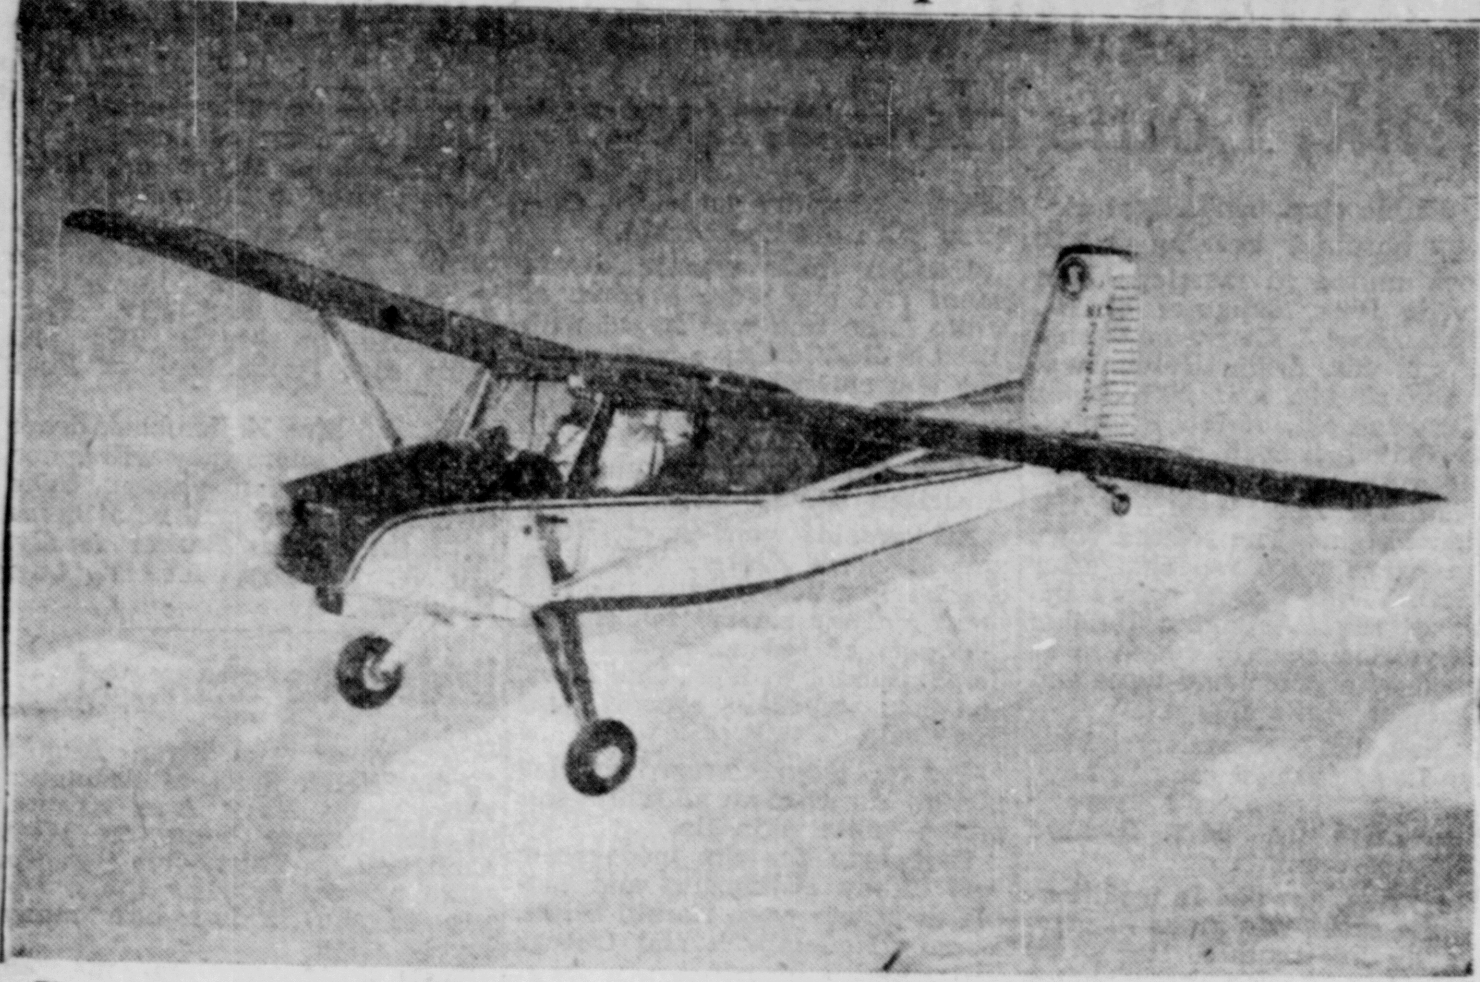

Don't let this hazard remain in your home. Now that top grade electric cords are again available, include a check-up of wiring as part of your regular housecleaning. If a cord is frayed or defective, have it fixed by a good repairman or buy a new cord.

Remember, in the future, to avoid yanking a cord from the socket.

Train the children to follow this rule. Keep your household safe from unnecessary hazards.

Everyone Reads The Classifieds

Wanna be president?

Here are your chances—50 million to one

Now that Republican hopefuls have officially opened the presidential nomination race, attention is once again focused on the $75,000 per year (plus a $25,000 expense account) job of ministering to the nation's headaches.

The United States Constitution states that any native-born American who is at least 35 years old can become president. Roughly, this gives every American child about a fifty-million-to-one chance.

But judging from the history of presidents as told in the World Book Encyclopedia, certain circumstances affect these odds.

For example, if the prospective president's ancestors came from the British Isles, the odds are much lower, because most of our presidents have been of English or Scotch-Irish descent. Noteworthy exceptions are Hoover, who was of German descent, and the Roosevelts, who were Dutch.

The odds against a woman becoming president are much higher than fifty million to one, because all of our presidents have been men.

Although February is often called "the month of presidents," it makes little difference during what month the child is born. According to the World Book, only three of our presidents were born in February, while five were born in March, and four in April. June is the only month which has no presidential birthday. With eleven months containing a total of thirty-three presidential birthdays, the average per month is three. Thus, February is merely holding its own with the other months.

The home state is another important factor when determining long-range presidential chances. All of our presidents have hailed from the eastern or middle-western states. Iowa is the westernmost state to be represented (Hoover), while Virginia and Ohio are tied for the lead, each having contributed seven presidents. Education is another point to be considered. The World Book states that four of our presidents attended Harvard, and three attended William and Mary College in Virginia. But ten of the thirty-three presidents did not graduate from any college or university.

If a youngster intends to study law, the odds are better still. Two-thirds of our presidents have been lawyers. The exceptions range from Woodrow Wilson, who was a college president, to Andrew Johnson, a tailor. Harry Truman's occupation is listed as "farmer," as is William H. Harrison's. Two presidents, Grant and Taylor, are listed as soldiers.

One heartening aspect of being president is the life expectancy. The United States presidents have an average life span of more than sixty-eight years, while our average life expectancy, at today's all-time high, is 62.8 years.

Members approve new church building plans

Members of the Prospect Heights Community church meeting at the schoolhouse last Friday evening gave formal approval of its committee's survey, program and unanimously approved the architect's contract. With these initial steps completed, the several committees entrusted with providing Prospect Heights with suitable facilities for worship, Christian education and youth character moulding, will now be able to complete plans for an adequate building and for its financing.

President Grover Jungbluth in his opening remarks told the church membership that "the people now in or entering the community must be presented with an adequate opportunity to worship God, and to establish church life."

THIS COMMUNITY cannot maintain its desired character without creating a more dynamic and ready opportunity for worship without having adequate church facilities that will attract the people of this community, and encourage them to practice their religion and worship in Friday, August 22, 1947

Homer C. Torreyson, of the building committee, with graphs, colored pictures and lantern slides the proved the need for expansion, present crowded conditions, future needs of the community as well as expected increase in population and church attendance.

William H. Spears chairman of the finance committee, with the aid of charts, pictured the possibilities of a $50,000 $75,000 or $100,000 first building unit and explained the various avenues being pursued to raise the necessary funds. Spears told of the assistance now being given the community by the Evangelical & Reformed church, the sponsoring denomination. He further announced the possible gift of $15,000 from the National Board of Missions and another gift of $10,000 through its 1000 Club.

HE then showed that residents of the community could easily contribute $42,500 toward the project and enumerated other could be used in raising whatever funds were necessary to give residents the type of church needed.

Rev. Robert A. Edgar, pastor of the Glenview Community church, who recently conducted a successful $350,000 campaign in that city, expressed considerable surprise at the thoroughness of the presentation he had just witnessed. He complimented the membership on its choice of leaders who were both practical and visionary. He applauded their work further by comparison of initial efforts within his own congregation.

"- BUT I WAS RIGHT DEAD RIGHT!"

"I was going into that intersection first. I had the right of way—that truck driver should have stopped when he saw me—I was right, dead right!"

"Yes dear—you always were right—the other fellow always wrong. That's why we're here."

You know, the kind, you've met him on the road—and ducked. He always barges through traffic when it's a question of split-second judgment. Never anticipates other drivers' actions—just assumes that traffic will give way. Owns the road. Drives with his horn.

He may get away with it for a time, plus a few tickets, because other drivers are more careful, more conscientious. But his kind eventually steps on the gas once too often—and for the last time he is "right—dead right!"

4,000 people died last year because "know-it-all" drivers violated rules of the road and the courtesies of driving. Good drivers never need to hold cemetery post-mortems. They drive carefully and live longer.

Hildegard Toepel in candlelight ceremony

In a candlelight service at St. Matthews Lutheran church, East Maine Saturday, August 16 at 7 p. m. Miss Hildegard Toepel daughter of Rev. Julius Toepel of East Maine, became the bride of Mr. Kenneth Kudsk, son of Soren Kudsk of St. Louis, Mo. In addition to the scores of tall white candles which graced the front of the church, two huge baskets of white roses, glads and stephanotis formed the perfect setting.

Rev. Toepel escorted his daughter to the altar and performed the single ring ceremony. The lovely bride chose a white bemberg sheer material for her gown. It was fashioned with sweetheart neckline, long, tight-fitting sleeves and a full hoop skirt with long train. She wore a long, lace-trimmed veil, with blusher, fastened to a crown of flowers. She also wore white mitts and carried a white prayer book with bouquet of white roses and stephanotis from which fell streamers.

Miss Eulalia Roberts was maid of honor, Mrs. Mildred Sheen and Mrs. Mae Pohlman were the bridesmaids. They all wore white. Eulalia's gown being of figured rayon with a full skirt, Mildred's having a taffeta bodice and bemberg sheer skirt and Mae's of all bemberg. They wore long white gloves and sequined beanie with halos of veiling. They carried cascade bouquets, the maid of honor's being of solid, deep red roses, the bridesmaid's of deep red roses but with white gladioli in the center.

The gentlemen in the party wore dark business suits, the groom with a stephanotis boutonniere, the best man and ushers wearing white roses in their lapels. Roy Curtis of Chicago served as best man, Howard Anunson of Larsen, Wis., and W.

John Sheen of Waukegan were the ushers. Thord J. Nicholson, nephew of the bride was the ring bearer. He wore a white suit with red rose boutonniere and carried the ring in a little box, nestled on a pillow made of the same material as the bride's dress and trimmed with lace.

Mrs. Florence Domes, sister of the bride played appropriate selections on the organ before the service began, swinging into the strains of Lohengrin when the wedding party started up the aisle. The bride's sisters and close relatives of the groom received gifts of corsages of pink roses and red roses from the groom.

Following the ceremony and a trip to the photographer's studio, the reception was held in the school hall with 75 guests attending. Sandwiches, wedding cake and coffee were served. The bride made the first cut in the beautiful four-tier wedding cake, after which her sister, Mrs. Thord Nicholson, cut and served the cake to the guests.

The groom is employed at the Ravenswood Machine Corporation in Chicago. The newlyweds will make their home at the parsonage with the bride's father for whom she has been keeping house.

Out-of-town relatives included Paul Leyhe of St. Louis, Mo., uncle of the bride, Dr. and Mrs. Otto Nielsen of Kinsville, Texas, cousin of the groom, and Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Curtis of Chicago, uncle of the groom.

JUST DOGS

Big ones and little ones — Now that your dog editor has had a vacation perhaps a topic that would be in order about now would be just a few passing thoughts on the subject of the variety of dogs seen while the editor and his wife were on a trip out to the west coast.

One thing that you note while going through the cattle and sheep country is the great number of Border Collies used as herd dogs. The sight of a small black and white Border Collie driving a flock of sheep along the roadside, or helping to bring in a great herd of cattle is something to behold, and in many of our western states the average farm or ranch dog, as the case may be, is usually of the Border Collie breed, or if not a pure-bred, then one which is rather close to the collie type.

After going down the California coast and then turning east to El Paso, Texas, and then south across the border into Mexico for a very short visit, one dog was noticed "south of the border" which is not often seen in the United States. This was the long-haired variety of the Mexican Chihuahua, or as it is known here by Chihuahua breeders the "Long Coated" dog of this breed.

All in all the vacation was a real vacation, however after covering about 5,000 miles in two weeks it looked pretty good to see home again and also to be greeted by our house dog, Trixie, who is without a doubt the most independent, happy-go-lucky, Beagle Hound that ever lived.

MANY people ask about exercising their dogs, not only in summer, but also during the winter. With regards to this matter one main point should be kept in mind. Regularity is essential for the best results; and moderate, regular exercise every day, year in year out is better than heavy exercise by fits and starts.

Above all remember do not take a dog out for a run and keep it up for a great length of time during anyone exercising period, especially if the dog is not accustomed to such exercise.

Remember — when you exercise your dog if you take him out on a leash, or let him "roam at will" (which most village ordinances prohibit), all-round development is what is required, not over-strain. "A dog is not a race-horse" is a good slogan.

THE DOG population is growing these days. It is estimated that there are about 20,000,000 with the southern states owning the greater part of them.

The Motilin Indians, who live in the jungle valleys in the region of Lake Maracaibo, Venezuela, are probably the only people in the world who have no dogs.

Chinese Invented Macaroni

Macaroni was invented by the Chinese and introduced into Europe by the Germans, who taught the Italians how to make it. But the Italians deserve the credit for appreciating macaroni for the 14th century they were the only Europeans extensively eating it.

ROSE-LO OVERPOWERS HASEMAN TO RE-WIN TROPHY

Sunday 9-2 win final for local champs

Rose-Lo's powerhouse overwhelmed the Haseman team for the second straight time Sunday by a score of 9-2. By virtue of this win the Rose-Lo team retained the softball championship of the Arlington Heights League.

Wolfram greeted Doyle with a rousing single to open the game and Hertel slapped what appeared to be just another single but when Behnke over-ran the ball Hertel ran the complete circuit to give the Rose-Lo team a 2-0 lead. Doyle then hit Laseke and walked B.
Rudolph but it looked like the fire would be put out when J.
Rudolph and Garms were victims of infield outs. Then Taegge bashed out a double to core two more unearned runs.
Finally Kehe fled out to Behnke to end the inning.

In the second inning Becker walked but was forced out by Wolfram and Hertel fled deep to Behnke and the hex sign appeared to be on Rose-Lo but Laseke came through with a single. Wolfram stopping at third while Laseke took second in the throw-in. B. Rudolph then singled to left field to score Laseke and Wolfram. J. Rudolph ended the inning when e struck out.

ROSE-LO tallied again in the first half of the fourth on a double by Wolfram and a single by B. Rudolph. Haseman's inally tallied one of their runs in the last half of this frame when Nangle was safe on a bunt and advanced to second when Hertel made a bad throw to second trying to force him on Jaenker's ground ball. Harris-son came through with a single to score Nangle but Haenker was out at third on a long throw y Taegge from right field. The reat ended abruptly when Doyle popped up and Benke rounded out.

Neither team tallied in the fth inning but in the sixth oth scored a run. Becker and Wolfram grounded out and as usual with two out, Hertel singled and Doyle again hit Laseke put men on first and second.
Rudolph then came through with a single to score Hertel at the side was retired when ubitz who batted for J. Rudolph was the victim of an infield out.

All over Illinois high school football hopefuls will be having their opening practices of the season next Monday. The state rules allow practice to start on the 25th of August with three weeks of it required before the opening game. Schools of the Northwest Conference will don uniforms Monday but in the Northeast loop there is a league rule which forbids any practice before the opening day of school.

New field, lights, track, and bleachers at Bensenville

Bensenville expects to have the finest athletic field in the Northwest Conference in another season. The board of education has graced the present field and is constructing a full quarter mile track and bleachers for 2,000 spectators. The VFW has given the school and community a football lighting system which will be ready for the Bisons opening games with Hinsdale about the middle of September.

Coaches pick Bisons as 1947 grid standouts

The talk among the league coaches last spring seemed to indicate that Bensenville might have the outstanding team in the league this fall. The Bisons have some seven regulars returning plus members of a fine frosh-soph eleven which handled everything in the league. Coach Tom Menequitz will again be at the helm at Bensenville.

New Lake county athletic league being formed

The Waukegan News Sun carried an article in their August 14 edition in which it is stated that a new conference will be formed to start play in the fall of 1949. It seems that Lake Forest, Warren, Zion-Benton, and Grayslake had agreed to form a new league if Libertyville would join them. About a week ago the Libertyville board of education decided to give superintendent Underbrink authority to go with the new setup which includes Lake County school expecting to

Champs vs Stars to be finale in DuPage softball

As the DuPage County Major Softball League enters its final round of play, a three way fight for first place has developed between the Prince Castle team of Naperville, the Moose team of Downers Grove and the V. F. W.'s of Bensenville.

Naperville and Downers Grove have lost only two games each, while Bensenville has lost 3. Downers Grove was defeated by Naperville and Lombard, while Bensenville defeated Naperville twice. Defeats by Westmont and Downers Grove and a forfeit to Bloomingdale account for Bensenville's 3 losses.

County league standings:

| | W | L |
|---------------|---|---|
| Downers Grove | 8 | 2 |
| Naperville | 7 | 2 |
| Bensenville | 6 | 3 |
| Westmont | 5 | 4 |
| Lombard | 4 | 4 |
| Bloomingdale | 3 | 6 |

The Downers Grove pitchers have turned in the two best pitching performances. Bertollette limited Westmont to 1 hit, that being a home run by first baseman Irwin. Schum shut out Lombard as he gave up only two singles in a game that ended in a 2 to 0 score. Bertollette also has a victory over the Joliet Rivals to his credit, setting them down to the tune of 9 to 5 at the Rivals own park earlier this season.

THE BIGGEST upset of the season came when Westmont defeated the Bensenville team in Westmont on July 16th. Bensenville was leading the league at that time, and defeat by Westmont knocked them out of the lead and elevated Naperville and Downers Grove into a two way tie for first.

Plans are being drawn up for a post season game between the league champions and an all-star team picked from the rest of the teams in the league. This game will be played in Lombard, on Thursday night, August 28th. During this game trophies will be presented to the league winner and runner-up.

The proceeds of this game will go into the league treasury, to be used for building up a stronger league in 1948. The goal of the County league is to build a league that is as strong as any county league in the state.

Redwings down but not out yet

It did not take very long for the Arlington Redwings to find out last Sunday that they would be on the losing end of another ball game as the visiting Grand Castle A. C. scored 5 runs in the first inning to shape a 4-1 victory. Although this was a Midwest league tournament game the loss does not eliminate the Redwings because a team must be defeated twice to be put out.

For next Sunday's encounter, Cicero Reds will play at Arlington. They have also been defeated once and so this game is vitally important to the future baseball fortunes of Cicero and Arlington. The loser will be eliminated from further tourney play. There are fifteen teams out of 21 starters still in the play offs. About 5 or 6 more will be knocked out this Sunday as 7 other games are being played in Chicago.

The Redwings failed to hit what appeared to be easy pitching by the opposition and never threatened in the game although several runners got on base. The visitors bats boomed merrily as Schaefer and Bacheson struggled in the beat trying to overcome handicaps of the shady defensive play of the Redwings.

Cracker tryout camp

The Atlanta Crackers Baseball Club of the Southern Association will hold a tryout at Woodstock Aug. 22 and 23 from 9:00 a. m. to 5 p. m. Scout Joe Pas-tor will be in charge.

Polo's Famous Brothers

North-South all-star cage game Friday eve

Twenty-four members of North and South all-star high school basketball squads, cream of senior cagers in 1947 Illinois prep last weekend to begin practice for the fifth annual all-star cage battle Friday, August 22, at 7:30 p.m. (C.D.T.) in Huff gym.

The 12 North stars reported Saturday morning to Tony Maffia, South Shore (Chicago) mentor, who'll be assisted by C. O. Appiegran, his regular South Shore aide. In charge of the South will be Merrill Thomas, who coached Pinckneyville to third in the "Sweet Sixteen" last March. Virgil Fletcher, Collinsville, will assist Thomas.

Thursday the stars will demonstrate basketball techniques for the prep coaches clinic under direction of seven outstanding mentors — Harold Foster, Wis.; "Pop" Harrison, Iowa; Doug Mills, Ill.; Merritt Allen, Freeport; Stanley Changnon, Mt. Vernon; Thomas, and Maffia.

THIS YEAR'S prep spectacle gives promise of being highest scoring and best of the five-year series. Last year the North, which has three wins to one for the South, was victorious, 50-44, in a hot-shooting battle. But the 1947 all-stars may well top that.

North stars hit camp Saturday with such terrific marksmen as Dave Allen, Waukegan; Jaks Fendley, South Shore (Chicago); Bud Grover, Dundee; Bato Gove-darica, Lane Tech (Chicago); Don Schairer, Burlington; Don Sunderlage, Elgin; Marv Klein, Morton (Cicero), and Augment Renrick, East Aurora. Sieburg and Bank fight for lead in Heights golf

With two weeks of play remaining the first two teams are having a real battle for first place in the Arlington Heights Twilight Golf League. The next six teams are all tied in a knot for third place. Trophies are to be awarded the first three teams.

The Bank team won 7 1/2 match points last week, with Park Lane and Duntleman Dairy taking 7 match points. Arnold, Rascher, Stephens, and Foy tied for low gross with 38's. Charley Poss won low net with an excellent 31.

The league's annual dance will be held this Saturday, August 23rd at 9:00 p.m. at the Mt. Prospect Country Club. The playoff and tournament will be held on September 14th with the banquet on September 16th.

Pirate football turnout slated for Monday

Football practice will start at Palatine high school Monday, August 25, at 5:00 p. m. All boys expecting to go out for football, either frosh-soph or varsity, should report at the school on Saturday of this week to secure football equipment. Practice time schedule after the first day will be announced by Coach Welty at the opening practice.

Palatine has a fine schedule which opens at home Saturday September 13, in a game with Inmaculate Conception high school of Elmhurst.

At coaches' school

J. E. Stutzman, Palatine township high school athletic director, has been spending this week at a special basketball coaching school at Logansport, Ind. This school has for years had a national wide reputation as being one of the best basketball coaching schools in the country.

Palatine team succumbs, 5-1, in first tilt

Rose-Lo, defending champions of the Arlington Heights Softball league, opened their defense of the title by soundly beating the Haseman team of Palatine last Thursday evening 6-1.

With the exception of the first inning the ball game was quite an even affair but Rose-Lo had tallied 5 times in the first inning to salt the game away.

In the first inning Wolfram led off with a single and advanced when Hertel laid down a beautiful sacrifice bunt. Laseke then beat out an infield hit while Wolfram advanced to third. B. Rudolph then laced the first ball pitched to right field for a single scoring Wolfram, Laseke stopping at third. J. Rudolph then provided the second out Kinsch to Nangle and in the process Laseke scored.

GARMS kept the fire going by beating out another infield hit and took second while a play was made on B. Rudolph at third base. Taegge then singled to short center to score Rudolph and Garms. Kehe also sent a single screaming to left field but was thrown to trying to stretch the hit to a double.

Bill Becker then proceeded to handcut the Palatine batsmen allowing Smith to beat out an infield hit in the second inning, before Harris belted a homer for Haseman's in the third inning thus averting a shut out. Becker got out in front of Harris with a 2-0 count and threw up a slow ball which Harris promptly bashed down the left field line. Behnke and Hahmfeldt received the only other two hits of the game and they were of the infield type.

Rose-Lo scored their other run in the fourth inning when Taegge was safe on an error by Doyle. Kehe sacrificed and Becker received a pass, Wolfram promptly (Continued on next page)

Hunters note

Which shoots harder, long barrel or short?

"Which gun shoots the harder, long barrel or short?" This question, according to the Remington Arms Co., is a constant source of argument among shooters wherever shotguns are fired.

It is generally conceded that a load of shot fired through a 30" barrel will have more velocity than a similar load fired through a 22" barrel, but how much more and what difference it will make in field shooting is the question in usual dispute.

About fifteen years ago a rather extensive set of tests was fired at the Burnside Laboratory of E.
I. du Pont de Nemours & Co.
in which the guns were cut down an inch at a time and the reduction in velocity was 7 1/2 feet per second per inch of barrel length, and this figure is usually quoted by arms and ammunition companies in reply to inquiries on the subject.

"The figures," says Dr. C. S.
Cummings, supervisor of ballistics standardization, Remington Arms Co., "were determined on the basis of average velocities over a 40 yard range and did not refer to muzzle velocities.

"Since the question is apparently still asked with considerable frequency, we decided to take advantage of recently developed techniques for measuring shotshell muzzle velocities and fire a series of tests to determine how the shortening of the barrel would affect the velocity of the shot charge at the muzzle.

"The test consisted of firing 12 gauge trap loads (3-1/1/8-8) in a barrel whose original length

was 30," cutting the barrel length down in 2" steps to a final length of 22," and measuring the average muzzle velocity at each barrel length.

"The results of the test showed that, over this range, from 30" to 22," an average figure of 6 1/2
f. p. s. per inch can be used.
This is in extremely good agreement with the tests originally quoted. It should be pointed out that in a test of this nature, it is only when the barrel has its original length that the choke is intact, and that for the shorter lengths (26" and less) the barrel is in effect a cylinder bore.

"These figures are very interesting to the shooter who likes to dig in and get right at the bottom of things but the average gunner wants to know how much difference this makes in field shooting loads. The answer is "very little." At 20 yards, which is about the average quail shot, the difference in time of flight of the shot charge from a 30" barrel and a 22" barrel is only .004 seconds. On a cross-flying bird traveling 60 miles an hour, which is some faster than average quail flight, a gunner shooting a 22" barrel gun would have to increase his lead only about 5", too small a distance to pay any attention to. At 30 yards, his difference in lead would be about 11", still not too important if his usual lead is such that the bird is struck with the center of the pattern, and at 40 yards, the difference is still greater, amounting to about 16".

"The test consisted of firing 12 gauge trap loads (3-1/1/8-8) in
a barrel whose original length

Two night games follow, one on good pitching in the person of

Offers memorial field for football game at Libertyville

At its August business meeting Tuesday evening, the Libertyville Community club offered the use of its lighted softball field to the high school for the possible playing of a night football game.
In offering the layout to the high school, the organization was not certain whether a gridiron could be situated between the lighted poles, but when the club started construction, contractors were instructed to set the poles so that sufficient space would be available to lay out a football area across the outfield. Sufficient lighting would be available as the reflectors could be adjusted.

players on the team throughout the season, will be rewarded for his work by being sent to Nashville of the Southern Association.
He has been ordered to report
once and will not return to Davenport. News of Kruckman's pro-George, secretary to Jack Sheehan, boss of the Chicago Cubs farm system in a long distance call from Chicago.

"We don't like to break up a ball club before the season is over," he said, but Kruckman has the chance to get into Class AA ball now. It would be a shame to deprive him of the opportunity.
Nashville, with a chance to get into the league play-off, has been plagued by injuries.
Kruckman led the Three-I league
at various times this year.
The last official batting averages shows him hitting at a .318 clip for 81 games. The Cubs took a liking to Kruckman when he attended the baseball school at Wrigley field. He was 17 then.
At Davenport Kruckman was voted the most popular member of the team by fans.

Beloit college calls 53

Fifty-three candidates for the Beloit College football team have been invited to come to the college campus September 10, one week before the college term officially opens, to begin practice for the 1947 season.

Coach Jim Easterbrook, starting his second season at Beloit, will begin on that date to whip his men into shape for the opening game, with Milton College on Saturday night, Sept. 20, under the lights of the college stadium.

The 53 men invited to open varsity drill on Sept. 10 were selected from showings in spring practice. Other candidates are expected to report as soon as the college officially opens its doors.

pleted for the annual Barrington Country Horse Show to be held Sunday, Aug. 24, in the Dorville Stables, Hawley road, Barrington.
Awards will be made to winners in beginners, intermediate, dowager, advanced and family group competition; in events featuring junior hunters, pleasure horses, handy hunters, open hunters and stock horses, and in exhibitions of Palomino and Arabian classes. Participation is limited to privately owned horses ridden by amateurs. The general public has been invited to witness the show.

U. S. - Mexico polo match this Sunday

When the umpire's whistle starts hostilities at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, the beautiful Oak Brook field at Cermak road, (22nd St.)
and York road, will become the polo capital of the world.

At that hour the fans, a record
10,000 of them, will witness six full periods of thrills, as the crack Mexican team battles a combination of U. S. all stars in the first international polo match since 1931 in this area.

The famous Mexican team, 1946
winners of the U. S. open championship which they will defend again, checked in Wednesday of last week and their $72,000 worth of ponies were unloaded Thursday. The lineup, to be decided just before game time, will be picked from among the three Gracida brother — Guillermo, Gabriel and Alejandro — Guillermo Cisneros, and Jesus Grijalva
"Sonora," team captain. Jesus Sol
"Orzano," head of the Federation de Polo Mexicana, here with the players, will make the choice.
The Mexicans carry a 24 goal team strength.

FIRST to join the U. S. team was 7-goal Tom Mather, former Texan now on the great Meadow Brook team of Westbury, N. Y.
Equally noted stars will round out the foursome. Mather's string of 10 ponies arrived the same day as those of the Mexicans.
Both teams plan daily scrimmages as tuneups for Sunday's classic. Players and their mounts are in top condition and keyed up for Sunday's duel. Reserved seats and boxes are priced at $.60, and general admission at $.20.

The second game of the series will be played at 3:30 p.m. next Wednesday, August 27, and the third at 2 p.m. Labor Day, September 1.

Must your wife ask this question if she be-

You have bought insurance, arranged a will, perhaps, have made a trust. Yet many a man otherwise thoughtful of his wife has neglected to discuss funeral arrangements with her.
Why leave this great responsibility for your wife in time of grief?
Be thoughtful. Obtain the facts on Prear-

Margaret Windheim, Arthur Oswald marry

Community Camera
Miss Margaret Windheim, daughter of Mrs. Louella Windheim and the late Arthur Windheim of Arlington Heights, was united in marriage with Mr. Arthur Oswald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oswald of Chicago, on August 16 in Chicago.

The bride was attired in an aqua dinner gown, styled with cap sleeves and round neckline, and set off with white accessories and an orchid corsage. She wore a feathered headpiece in her hair. Mrs. Emil Hoggay of Arlington Heights served as the bride's only attendant. She wore a chartreuse grecian style gown with matching accessories, and also had an orchid corsage.

Best man for the bridegroom was Raleigh Kean of Chicago. Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served to the immediate members of both families at the Old Country

House, Touhy and River roads. a reception for 150 guests followed later on the lawn of the bride's mother's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Oswald are honeymooning in the East for the next two weeks. They will be at home after September 1 at 248 Marquette Blvd., Chicago.

Marriage licenses join spiral costs

First of all, it was the price of steel. Then the price of meat. Rents went up, and so did street car fares. Through it all County Clerk Michael J. Flynn held the might cost more to be born nowadays, or to die, or to get a divorce, but through it all the price of a marriage license remained the same as it was for several decades — $3. Last week, Flynn sadly admitted defeat by putting into effect a new "high cost of living" $5 marriage license fee.

Hildegard Toepel, 24, of Des Plaines, who took out a license with Chicagoan Kenneth Kudsk, 29, was the first north suburbanite to pay the new $5 fee.

Dolores Busse and Dale Phillis exchange vows

St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Elk Grove, was the scene of the marriage of Miss Dolores Busse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Busse of Arlington Heights, and Mr. Dale M. Phillis, son of Mrs. Ray Willert of Arlington Heights on Saturday, August 9. The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. F. L. Gehrs before the altar decorated with white gladioli, asters, and palms. The musical background for the service was played by the organist, Paul Meeske.

Miss Busse entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Her white satin gown was fashioned with fitted bodice, having a drop shoulder effect, net yoke and long sleeves, the skirt having a full bustle and long train. She wore a full length veil with blusher, both being edged in lace and fastened by a crown of orange blossoms. Her bridal bouquet was colonial in style and made up of white larkspur, white carnations and centered with a blue orchid. She wore a pearl and rhinestone choker, which was her only jewelry.

The maid of honor, Miss Delores Bernard, and the flower girl, Miss Sandra Lee Busse, niece of the bride, wore dusty rose moire taffeta gowns and gauntlets. Acting as bridesmaids were Miss Jean Gatzke, Miss Jean Berberich, Mrs. Erwin Kirchhoff, and Miss Leona Kirchhoff. They wore ice blue moire taffeta gowns and gauntlets. All the attendants dresses were styled similar to the bride's. They wore pillbox headpieces of matching moire taffeta, trimmed with a spray of carnations, and carried colonial bouquets of blue, rose and white carnations, with streamers to match their gowns.

Master Donald Gatske, nephew of the bride, served as ring bearer and was attired in a dark formal dress suit. He carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Mr. Harley Easton acted as best man for the bridegroom, and serving as ushers were Floyd Bauman, Howard Behrens, Marvin Fink, and Rollin Busse. They all wore summer formal and had blue carnation boutonnières. The bridegroom also wore a summer formal and had a white carnation boutonniere.

The bride's mother chose a black sheer crepe dress to wear for her daughter's wedding and it was set off with a red rose corsage. A blue linen dress trimmed with white eyelet, and a white gardenia corsage was worn by the groom's mother.

A dinner was served at "Eddie's" following the ceremony, for 43 guests. The Itasca Country club was the scene of the reception which was held at 8 p.m. for 300 guests. Music for dancing was furnished by Earl Friedrichs

Tales
of the STREET

BY I. C. HART

THE OPEN ROAD

One of those hot sultry days last week Tom Norman was in the office advocating the purchase of a trailer so he could head for the cool breezes of the North Woods. Now you know when Tom gets started on one of those promotional talks of his he can be a most convincing talker, and as he raved along about the cool North in the hot weather and the balmy breezes of the South land in the cold weather you could get a mind's eye picture of life fishing on a cool Northern lake and basking under palm tree and looking out over the sparkling Atlantic.

"The life of the open road" was a tempting picture as Tom painted it and we're just wondering when he's going to catch up with that dream, get that trailer and start out. Anyway Tom's version of the open road life is different from those that fellows used to get years ago when they pictured themselves starting out down the dusty road with a little package hung over their shoulders and ready to see the world on foot. None of that in Tom's new utopia. His idea of the life of the open road is the luxury of a modern trailer with all the conveniences of home.

Has walking become a lost art? One is almost tempted to believe that it has since nearly everyone jumps into a car to go even a block or two. Of course there are still hiking clubs, etc., but for the average citizen walking is getting more and more obsolete. If a person wants to go on an errand or to call on a neighbor, they hop into a car nowadays if the trip is over a couple of blocks.

Kids didn't use to think anything of walking a few miles to school, but now if there isn't a school bus handy, there is heck to pay. And if the lads of the present had to walk to Arlington or Barrington to play a ball game and then walk home again, they just wouldn't play ball. Yet we don't see that it did any damage to the old boys of today that used to do those stunts in their youth.

Walking is one of the most healthful exercises on earth. The doctors will tell the folks that and a whole lot of folks might feel better physically if they'd walk more and use that car less, but the car is handy so why walk? We had business men tell us years ago that we ought to get a small car to use instead of having to take that long walk to town. We told him he'd feel better if he used his car less and his legs more, but he was always in too much of a hurry to walk. That gentleman has long since been called to the great beyond and we're still taking that long walk and we were just about the same age.

DOG DAYS

These are dog days in more ways than one. It's the time of year when dogs are supposed to go mad for lack of water and it's the time of year when the local policemen catch all kind of heck when they make their rounds after dog licenses. The average citizen who has a garden or a flower bed always does have plenty to scream about from dogs ranting all over the place. But the police say it's surprising how one dog owner will complain about some one else's dog. Folks who live in the village can't see why they have to pay a license when a dog just over the line can rampage into the village gardens and do a lot of damage.

Now at license time comes up the age old question of "when is a dog a dog?" Folks with puppies can't see why they have to buy a dog license for a puppy. But in the eyes of the police a dog is a dog when he can bark and as a pup can bark about as soon as he's born that makes a puppy a candidate for a dog license. And the cops tell about folks who are going to get rid of their dogs, give them away, send them to the country or something or other to get out of buying a license for their pets, yet when the boys make rounds the next year those dogs are still in the same place. Yes, dog days are here and they're not only here for the dogs themselves, but for the police whose job it is to collect those dog licenses.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION

Difference of opinion is one of the things that makes the world go around. It makes contests of all sorts in base ball, football, golf, horse racing and what not. It causes political battles all over the world. There's a difference of opinion among farmers and gardeners as to how to raise certain crops and do certain jobs.

One of the pet differences of opinion among gardeners is to stake or not to stake tomato plants. This question is always an annual argument among gardeners with lots of good points on both sides. Each advocate of both systems then proceeds to do just as he pleases, according to his convictions.

One of the big differences of opinion among farmers concerns the question of harvesting by combine or by the old threshing system. And like the gardeners there are a lot of advocates of both systems. Many of the boys do some of their harvesting by both systems.

In tour of the harvest fields recently we saw farmers combining who also had a lot of their grain shocked and ready to thresh the old fashioned way. Emil Schroeder was running a combine but he leans to the old fashioned system. After a bit of trouble with the combine he was about ready to give it back to the Indians.

Otto Bittner, a neighbor of Emil's, on the other hand, waved his hand proudly at his combine sailing through a big oat field and said proudly, "There's the system. Saves a lot of time and is way ahead of the old method." Yes, difference of opinion is a great thing, it makes the world go around. You find it everywhere from the councils of the United Nations to the harvest fields of Palatine township.

CHINCH BUGS AND BARLEY

What relation does a chinch bug have to a barley field is a question that a lot of farmers are asking themselves these days. For the chinch bugs are thick this year and they are particularly thick in the barley fields and in corn fields that adjoin barley fields. Is barley an especially good breeding ground for the chinch bug? Does it furnish the pest with a flying start or what?

That's a question a lot of farmers would like the answer to. Louis Rhode says he won't grow any more barley because every time he does the chinch bugs are on the job in droves. So he's cut barley off his crop list. And there are a lot of instances this year of where corn fields next to barley fields are alive with chinch bugs while none of the pests show, or at least not in such numbers in other corn fields.

Several years ago the barberry bushes were eradicated because they harbored the grain rust and grain fields near a barberry bush were badly infected. Now it begins to look as if may be one way to control the chinch bug would be to eliminate the growing of barley. At any rate the relationship between barley and the chinch bug has got a lot of farmers talking and thinking about the subject.

THE MASON — Few small houses possess the authentic early American charm of this cottage. The plans provide for construction with either one or two bedrooms. For economy, it should be built without basement. Plans show basement alternate, however. The Mason, is unusual in its room layout. The living room has three way ventilation. The kitchen provides dinette space. The master bedroom is of a size to grace a much larger house. Closets are generous. The exterior charm of this house sets it apart from most small houses. It conforms to the standards of FHA and the National Adequate Wiring Bureau. Blue prints from which this unusually attractive small home may be built, are available at $7.50 per set from Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights.

Jahncke's store
nearly finished

A. F. Jahncke's new $7,000 store building, Mt. Prospect is nearing completion. It is a brick structure 12 ft. longer and 6 ft. wider than the building that burned. Mr. Jahncke was lucky to have placed large orders for goods before the big raise in prices. He expects to open his new store to the public between Sept. 15 and Oct. 1 and will be glad to welcome back all old and many new customers.

Editor's son at sea

David A. Paddock, the editor's youngest son, after four months training at Great Lakes naval training station, three weeks of which was on a naval training ship on the lakes, left Tuesday with 500 other cadets for the U. S. service at sea.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

near Mary:
So sorry to hear you're ill this week. What a time to be being laid up. This heat is terrific and bringing out the usual things on the sidewalk, corn popping in the field, and other such ories.

I've made a tour of some of these towns around here to see what was going on, and discovered many things, some good, some not so good.

Up in Palatine they're still having growing pains. They're really started city mail delivery after finally getting authorization of Washington) but the system still isn't complete.

It seems Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect and other communities get their mail twice a day. Evidently people don't write much in Palatine, for the delivery is restricted to once a day. It isn't the carriers' fault, I guess. They cover 7 miles a day (6 miles too much for me).

it you can imagine asking just to go to deliver mail to a home in Palatine in one day. I've wired the first assistant postmaster general in Washington, D. C., for help. Someone told me if enough people complain, they'll add more carriers to give the town the sort of delivery expected every where else.

Down in Arlington Heights, it's still discussing the parking situation. That subject has been tossed around about as much as the weather, yet nothing is ever done. It was even political campaign slogan there recently.

For my money there is no problem. I don't mind walking block to my car. I figure it's odd for me. There's no sense in going overboard on this exercise idea, walking about 300 feet once twice a week doesn't wear my shoes too much.

One nice thing about the lights this year is the extended recreation and pool program carried on in the park.

Corn is the biggest "eater" of plant foods in the entire grain family. Producing 100 bushels of corn takes 155 pounds of nitrogen, 67 pounds of phosphorus and 120 pounds of potash out of the soil.

YOUR DENTAL I Q

Question: I should like information concerning the prevention of tooth wear. I have taken fairly good care of my teeth and eaten plentifully of calcium foods. I am only 20 but my teeth are abnormally worn. — L. H. A.

Answer: — Anomalous tooth wear is called abrasion (a-bray-zhun). As individuals grow older, their teeth will naturally show signs of wearing down due to normal use of mastication. Normal wear of teeth, such as is found in most persons at the age of 40, is not considered true abrasion. Many persons in the late twenties and early thirties have teeth so considerably worn that mouth disfigurement results.

Treatment of abrasion is difficult but if taken early, the dentist can render much assistance by placing fillings in certain teeth to relieve the wear on the rest of the teeth. Strict observance of the mouth is then maintained and as the fillings wear down, or the enamel or dentine of the other teeth show signs of abrasion, additional fillings are employed.

Eating large amounts of calcium foods, while generally healthful, will have no beneficial effect on this condition.

Expect high auto toll
Labor Day weekend

Labor Day week end traffic in Cook County will take a toll of twelve lives and seriously injure 420 when 400,000 cars carrying 1.2 million tourists take to the highways registering a round trip average of 500 miles per car, Charles M. Hayes, President of the Chicago Motor Club, predicts.

The outbound traffic stream will see 300,000 cars with 900,000 tourists leaving Chicago and Cook County—while the incoming traffic will contribute 100,000 cars carrying 300,000 motorists to a holiday in the city. Illinois cars, clocking 365 million travel miles in the same period, will contribute 32 traffic deaths and 1,120 serious injuries in the same period. The record high for Labor Day week end was set in 1940 when 44 persons were killed in highway accidents.

A record incoming traffic volume will be set when 400,000 cars return to Chicago and Cook County at the close of the Labor Day week end. Supplementing the original 300,000 cars will be an additional 100,000 cars with 300,000 tourists returning from summer homes and extended vacations.

Percentage down, but profit up for Jewel, as unit sales increase

Operations for the first 23 weeks of 1947 resulted in earnings of $2.46 per share of common stock as compared with $1.96 per share in 1946. Retail sales totaled $65,605,398, an increase of $24,741,111 or 61% over a year ago.

Lower retail prices in relation to merchandise, markdowns of inventory values due to rapidly changing commodity markets or to assure attractive retail prices, and sharply increased expenses, were more than offset by gross profit from the added volume of sales. Total markdowns charged to operations during this 23 week period amounted to $383,708 and occurred principally in green coffee, textiles and canned fruits and vegetables. No addition or charge was made to the existing reserve for contingencies and inventory valuation.

Federal, state and local tax expense of the company during the first 23 weeks of 1947 was equal to $14.63 per week for each employee. This amount does not include social security taxes paid by the company for the benefit of its employees nor does it include additional substantial tax payments to federal, state and local governments by such employees as individuals.

if you use this method of satisfying that urge.

We are all children of our emotions. Among the strongest of these is a desire for praise, a yearning for accomplishment. But no matter what the emotion is, it should not be simply repressed. We must do something about it, to get it out of our subconscious mind. There are many ways to do this. Bachelors and maiden ladies find relief from desires for physical love in consecrating their lives to teaching, church or social work, or a career. People craving praise denied in their daily work, find it by excelling in their hobbies.

In most emotional problems, my friends system of writing it down works wonders. You have to be honest with yourself as well as the other person as well. Criticize your feelings and hers in an objective sense after you have written it down. But once you have "let off steam," you are ready to start normal living again. If you had merely sought to repress your feelings, and to hide them in your own heart, they might have done great injury in time. That is why the old saying "confession is good for the soul" is so true.

It Happened Here

Except Near The Lake
Weather man, hear, our thanks please take
For those cooling words, "Except near the Lake."
Except near the Lake let the mercury soar
Up into the nineties, one hundred or more;
Except near the Lake you may sizzle and melt
But here the cool breezes are gratefully felt.

Weather man, weather man, hear us, we pray,
Except near the Lake was not written today!

The colored rags of iron man was practically a scare crow; the day was very hot and he was asked if he would like a glass of cold orange juice. "Yes, mam," he beamed. "I was too well raised to refuse that."

Some may be losing social security benefits now

Are you losing benefits to which you might be entitled? This question is asked by Mrs. Hilda Eidman, manager of the Oak Park field office of the Social Security Administration. Mrs. Eidman stated that many people are losing benefits because of their failure to file an application.

Men and women 65 years old or more, who have worked on jobs that are covered by the law get old-age insurance benefits provided they have received enough pay from covered jobs during certain periods of time.

Another provision of the Social Security Act pays benefits to certain survivors of deceased wage earners who have had sufficient covered employment. In order to draw benefits, if insured, an application must be filed. Many people who are not working due to illness or unemployment fail to file immediately because they intend to return to work. Benefits can be paid for the months during which they are not working and earning over $14.99 a month. Every person 65 or over who has been working under Social Security should contact the Oak Park field office whether working or not. It is important to have your record checked in order to determine if any benefits might be payable. Inquiries should be sent to Post Office Building, Oak Park.

Do girls tease you about your Adam's apple? Well, they should not, because according to legend, it's the fault of their ancestor, Eve, the first woman. Questions on G. I. bill

Question: I understand the deadline on reinstating National Service Life Insurance has been changed. What is the new deadline date?

Answer: Congress extended the reinstatement of National Service Life Insurance without examination to January 1, 1948.

Question: I want to bring my English fiancée to this country. How much time do I have to do this?

Answer: On July 3, 1947, an amendatory act was signed extending the law in relation to alien fiancées (which expired June 30, 1947) to December 31, 1947.

Question: I received my state bonus. Do I have to report this as income for federal income tax purposes?

Answer: No. The Bureau of Internal Revenue has ruled that state bonuses received by veterans will not constitute taxable income for federal income tax purposes.

Question: Long time ago I wrote to the Navy requesting information regarding my overseas record with the Navy. I need this information to complete my application for the Illinois State Bonus. I have not received this reply and the time is running out for filing applications. What should I do?

Answer: The state of Illinois requests this application to be filed before July 1, 1949. You may obtain a copy of form 5-A, which is an affidavit that an ex-serviceman can file with the State of Illinois in lieu of formal information from the Navy Department. These statements are being accepted and payment will be made. Form 5-A may be obtained at your local Illinois State Employment Service office at 5306 W. Lawrence avenue, or any of the other standard organizations which assisted in the distribution of the original bonus application forms.

Cows get thirsty, too, and must have water

Farmers need to make a particular point through the next few weeks of seeing that hogs, dairy cows, poultry and horses get an ample supply of water, the Illinois State Veterinary Medical Association warned today.

"Animals and poultry lose water excessively in hot weather and water in many ways is even more important than feed is to their well-being," the Association said.

"The average dairy cow needs at least twelve to fifteen gallons of water per day. Any farmer can increase milk production as much as seven gallons to every 100 gallons now being obtained, simply by arranging to keep clean water before his cows all the time.

"One hundred laying hens require at least six gallons of drinking water every day. Much of an egg is water. Hens cannot manufacture eggs continuously unless they have water before them continuously. As for pigs, it takes about 550 lbs. of water to produce one pound of pork. And a horse should be offered a drink every time the owner takes a drink."

The Agricultural Outlook Digest

Extracts from B. A. E. report for July, 1947.

Feed Grain supply per animal unit down 8% from 1946-7. Less meat in 1948.

Employment reached post-war peak in June, with industrial production slightly off in June.

FOREIGN Trade depends on (1) Larger U. S. Imports, (2) More U. S. gifts and loans. Agricultural exports may equal 1946. Prices paid and received by farmers both up, with fruits, wheat, truck crops down. Weather to be deciding factor for corn.

During last of 1947 dairy prices will range a little below 1946. High meat will hold egg prices high.

Russian wheat crop good but below prewar.

Fresh vegetables likely to return to September, 1946, levels. Carry over from 1946, canning very high.

Field mice are causing damage to clover crop

Field mice are causing considerable more damage to clover in Illinois than most farmers realized, says J. C. Hackleman, agronomist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. "No field practice we might recommend will eliminate field mice, but we can reduce the damage they will do."

As a result of about ten years of experimental work on the University South Farm the late Professor Flint discovered that clipping red clover and getting the green material on the ground relatively early would keep the mice from forming homes or runs under the vegetative material that grows in the latter part of the summer and would thus reduce mice numbers.

CUTTING the stubble clover at the right time will also reduce mice by 50 percent. "The stubble of the nurse crop is cut into shorter lengths by the mower so that this material will drop down and be distributed more evenly over the ground. It isn't left in bunches or patches, and consequently there isn't the opportunity for the mice to form nests or runs," Hackleman says.

"Of course, the more straw there is, the greater the amount of organic material left on the surface and the more likely the mice are to use it as a harbor. And if they do use it for a harbor, they are going to eat those clover and alfalfa crowns during the winter."

Hackleman believes that the combined straw should be removed or the stubbles cut just

Kansas Hits Another Jackpot

DODGE CITY, KAN.—Fifty acres in a 10-hour day... wheat making 30 bushels to the acre... that's 1,500 golden bushels—the result of one day's harvest with a self-propelled combine and a couple of busy grain trucks. Still to be reckoned with, but not nearly so disturbing a factor as it once was, bad weather may slow up operations here and there along the way, but time lost is soon made up when skies clear. The self-propelled combine, since its mass demonstration in the Massey-Harris harvest brigade during the critical harvest years of 1944-45, is the rule today wherever wheat is grown. By the hundreds they work their way up from Texas, through the panhandle, to arrive in Kansas about mid-July; then into Nebraska, the Dakotas, Montana and Minnesota. Many cross the border into Canada.

With winter wheat crop estimated at more than a billion bushels (Kansas alone is expected to yield 284 million bushels) there will be wheat aplenty for the U.S. and a sizeable surplus available for the hungry world.

Diligence pays

Higher farm income due to management

Over a 22-year period, differences in management accounted for net earnings $301 an acre higher on farm than on another farm of about the same size, on the same type of land and in the same county of Illinois.

Farm Adviser, C. A. Hughes, says this proof of the value of better farm management is the result of a study of long-time records by M. L. Mosher, who is in charge of the Farm Bureau Farm Management Service at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

MOSHER studied the management practices and net farm earnings on two neighboring Illinois farms. His report shows that both farms are about a quarter section in size. Both farm operators grew up on the farms they operate. They are about the same age and have operated their farms all of the 22 years. One of them realized total net earnings of $93,200 during the 22 years, while the other received only $45,000, a difference of $48,200, which is about the present value of the farm.

Farm Bureau Farm Management Service records kept during the 22 years tell the story of differences in management that lead to differences in earnings. Most of the variation in earnings was due to differences in crop yields and returns from feed fed to livestock.

THE MORE profitable farm produced an average annual acre yield of seven more bushels of corn, 11 more bushels of oats, and six more bushels of soybeans than the less profitable farm. The natural productivity rating of the soil was the same on both farms. An average of 22 per cent of the tillable land was kept in biennial and perennial legumes on the better farm compared with only 10 percent on the other. More than twice the amount of manure was available on the more productive farm.

Young farmers who enroll in the Farm Bureau Farm Management Service can find out in three or four years whether their farming practices are leading to high or low earnings, to high or low family living, to security or dependence in old age.

The farms used in this study have been keeping records with the Pioneer Farm Bureau Farm Management Service, reports Mr. Hughes. Those who attend the 22-year Round-Up meeting of this management group at Normal University September 16 will hear more about this study and about the management service. Several farmers who have profited from their long-time records will tell about their experiences.

Cows may need extra feed on summer pasture

Even though pastures have been good this summer, high producing dairy cows may need extra hay or grain during the summer months.

Karl E. Gardner, dairyman at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says a number of dairymen over the state have asked about low butterfat tests they have been receiving on their milk.

Gardner says these low tests may result from the kind of pasture the cows have been getting. He says the grass in many of the pastures is "washy," which means it has a high water content. In other words, the animals may not be getting all the feed they need, even though the pastures are green.

"I realize that both hay and grain are expensive now," Gardner says, "but I'm convinced that a little hay fed in mangers or feed racks during the summer months will actually save feed in the long run."

Gardner points out that it is a mistake to let a milking cow become run down during the summer. Much more feed will then be needed during the fall and winter to bring her back into good flesh.

Pigs sunburn

Pigs sunburn, just as human beings do, sometimes never fully recovering from their attack, and the Illinois State Veterinary Medical Association reported today that the skin of white pigs and the white spots on colored pigs are especially sensitive.

Pigs suffer doubly, from the direct effects of bright sunshine and from the fact that various forage crops make their skin particularly sensitive to the sun's rays.

"Once a pig has been badly sunburned it is not likely to be a profitable feeder or a good prospect for the breeding herd," said the Association statement.

"Ample shade and keeping the pigs on some pasture besides rape or a legume are the best precautions. Special applications and treatments are valuable, but only if used early and expertly."

Test For Fastness

When washing prints, be sure to test for color fastness. One way is to dip a belt, or a piece of the fabric snipped from a seam, into a glass of lukewarm water. To prevent color bleeding when print surfaces touch, dry print dresses on a hanger with an old sheet or a bath towel run between the front and back and another through the sleeves.

Farm program to be heard from field pasture day

Assurance has been received that WLS Dinner Bell program will be broadcast from Fred Becker's farm 3 miles north-east of Huntley in McHenry County, Wednesday, Aug. 27. Art Page and Russell Parks will be present.

The machinery dealers, who are cooperating in putting on the day's program, have promised some WLS entertainment which will appear at different times during the day. They are Huntley Farm Store, Art Garlieb, Harry Weltz and Weltz Motor Co. Other businessmen of Huntley are expected to take part, also.

General Chairman, Henry Marlowe, reports enthusiasm is running high in Huntley and Grounds Chairmann, Pat Williams reports a number of civic organizations in Huntley have applied for concessions to keep folks from getting thirsty or hungry.

THE PROGRAM will start at 10 a. m. with a terrace building demonstration using a tractor and plow. At 11 a. m. weed control machines will be demonstrated as will other types of machines used in connection with pasture improvement.

At 12:00 a huge map will be exhibited showing the results of a recent soil test on the acre to be improved.

At 12:30 when Dinner Bell program starts, four tracts with field cultivators and discs will start tearing up the old blue grass sod in preparation for seeding. After this work is complete, lime and phosphate spreading equipment will spread the proper amount of these fertilizers according to the tests. Following, fertilization seeders will seed a pasture mixture and smooth it down.

At about 2 p. m. attention will again be called to the terrace that should be complete by that time. The terrace work will be under the supervision of Norman Specht, McHenry County Soil Conservation District Conservationist.

LAW on the FARM

The State Fair—The law of Illinois provides that the State Department of Agriculture shall "hold annually a state fair in order to promote improved methods of agriculture, to encourage an increased yield of grain, grass, fruits, vegetables and other crops and the raising of improved breeds of livestock and poultry, to acquaint farmers with the latest implements and machinery of agriculture, and to encourage the manufacture of butter, cheese and other products of agriculture."

Title to the state fair grounds was, by a law of 1927, transferred from the State Board of Agriculture to the people of Illinois, and the Department of Agriculture designated as custodian of the grounds and buildings. The department is given broad authority to adopt rules and regulations governing the conduct of the fair, classes of exhibits, premiums, racing, admissions, policing and protection of the grounds, buildings and exhibits and other necessary procedures.

According to law all persons attending the fair must pay an admission charge, except "exhibitors and their bona fide employees, honorably discharged soldiers, and children under 5 years of age."

The fair is administered by a general manager, who is an officer of the State Department of Agriculture. To aid the department and the general manager in determining policies, and the law provides for the appointment of a board of state fair advisers.

Expenses of the fair, including the upkeep of buildings and

Frankfort-Joliet entry wins poultry contest

The Illinois championship in the national Chicken-of-Tomorrow competition was awarded last week at the State Fair in Springfield to the joint entry of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Minger of Frankfort and Corn Belt Hatcheries of Joliet.

The second place award went to John H. Shutt of Alexander, an eight year old boy who holds the distinction of being the youngest breeder ever to place in the national contest. Third, fourth, and fifth place honors went respectively to Mrs. John P. Wilm of Pawnee, M. J. Shreffler of Kankakee and Leland Hatchery of Leland.

The top five winners will compete in the north central regional meeting in Indianapolis on Sept. 2, for which the A. & P. Food Stores, sponsors of the nationwide competition, have donated $600 in prizes.

Regional and state winners will participate in the national finals to take place in 1948, Carpenter stated. At that time, $10,000 in prizes will be awarded.

Scavenger bugs follow corn borer

"About this time of the year people inquire about a small, black bug is about 1/4 inch long that is found on corn stalks and in tunnels where corn borers have been, and they wish to know if the damage is caused by these bugs," states Farm Adviser C. A. Hughes.

"The fact is scavenger bugs follow corn borers, sucking juice and feeding on refuse from the corn borers. Not only do they follow the corn borer but they are frequently found on tomato plants, especially where tomatoes are damaged, and a number of other crops. They are perfectly harmless and do no damage at all."

Pioneer Dowry

In log cabin days, a dowry was not complete unless it included several choice pillows. Choice pillows were not a simple matter then because they had to be made by hand. Mothers, aunts and grandmothers would get together and work many painstaking hours at separating and curing the feathers and down for this particular contribution to the new household-to-be.

The laws referred to are in chapter 127, sections 5, 6, 24 and the Illinois Revised Statutes, section 40, paragraphs 14-17.

Soil Composition

Soil consists of accumulations of mineral particles varying in size from boulders to ultra-microscopic clay grains, with void spaces containing air or water of both between the mineral grains. Sometimes the soil contains an admixture of organic materials.
